Note for the Reader.

The twelfth volume of the Registers of the Diocese of Hereford, now completed, contains the Registers of Pontesbury and Westbury. Both are of great interest, because of the extent of these parishes, and the many important hamlets and townships contained in them, and the numerous families of position that occur in these Registers. Pontesbury also is one of six remaining Shropshire Registers which began in pre-Reformation times.

In the present volume, as has been the rule adopted by the Council throughout, the Registers are not printed in full, but in an abbreviated form which can readily be understood, though every salient fact has been recorded, and all occurrences, remarkable events, etc., have been given in full.

The following abbreviations have been adopted:—

aff.	— affidavit	lic.	— license.
b.	— bachelor (or born).	mar.	— married.
bap.	— baptized.	nup.	— nupti.
chr.	— christened.	p. (or par.)	parish.
ch. w.	— churchwardens.	pr.	— pauper.
cler.	— clericus.	s.	— son.
clk.	— clerk.	sep.	— sepultus.
co.	— county.	sp.	— spinster.
d.	— daughter.	ux.	— uxor.
dioc.	— diocese.	vid.	— vidua.
esq.	— esquire.	w.	— wife.
f.	— filius (or filia).	wid.	— widow.
gen. (or gent).	— gentleman.	widr.	— widower.
inft.	— infant.	wit. (or W.)	— witnesses.

A capital letter after "of" or "p." denotes the parish whose particular Register is dealt with; thus "of P."="of Pontesbury," and "p. W."="parish of Westbury."

For the transcription of these Registers, the Society is indebted to the Rev. W. F. Lightfoot Harrison and Mr. G. Wm. S. Sparrow, and for collating to Miss Auden and Mr. Sparrow.

The word "pauper" affixed to many names does not necessarily imply poverty, but that the duty imposed by Act of Parliament on the registration of baptisms, marriages, and burials was not paid.

It might be well to point out that these printed volumes are not legal evidence of any baptism, marriage, or burial; but for entering up a pedigree in the College of Arms, or for any legal purpose, certified extracts must be obtained from the incumbents. The statutory cost of each certified entry is 3s. 7d.

Pontesbury Registers.

Pontesbury is a large parish of 11,000 acres, extending from the Shrewsbury side of Hanwood, less than 4 miles from Shrewsbury, to Asterley, some 10 miles from the town, with the parish of Church Pulverbatch on the south and that of Ford on the north. The village of Pontesbury lies 7½ miles from Shrewsbury and 15½ from Montgomery. The chief part of the parish is in the manor of Ford, comprising the townships of Arscott, Asterley, Boycott, Cruck Meole, Cruckton, Edge, Farley, Halston, Hinton, The Lea, Little Hanwood, Newnham and Polemere, Pontesford, Plealey, Sascott and Siberscote. Part of Onslow is within the liberties of Shrewsbury; Oakes is an independent manor, in the hundred of Condover, as is Longden, a chapelry of Pontesbury, in the hundred of Ford. The manor of Pontesbury itself is not of large extent. The parish is in the hundred of Ford, the rural deanery of Pontesbury, Archdeaconry of Ludlow, and Diocese of Hereford. The present lord of the manors of Ford, Pontesbury and Oakes, is H. de Grey Tatham Warter, Esq., of Hinton Hall.

The history of Pontesbury goes back to very early times, as is shewn by the earthworks on the Pontesford and Pontesbury hills. It was on the line of a Roman road to the lead mines on the Stiperstones, and some antiquaries derive the name from the Latin "Pontes." The remains of a Roman villa were found in 1793 at the Lea. The place names go to show that the Saxons in their turn completely annexed the district, as no Celtic names survive, unless it be in the Lyd Hole, under the Pontesford Hill,—(Llwyd—dark grey,)—but it is quite possible that the name may be comparatively modern and taken from a personal name.

Pontesbury has been identified with Possentes-byrig, the scene of the important battle mentioned in the Saxon Chronicle as taking place in 661, at Easter, between Kenwulf, King of the West Saxons, and Wulfhere, son of Penda, King of Mercia. The old custom of the Palm Sunday search for the golden arrow at Pontesford may be a tradition of this fight. The lord of the Manor of Pontesbury in the time of King Edward the Confessor was Ernui. The Domesday record is: "The same Roger (fitz Corbet) holds Pantesberie (of Earl Roger de Montgomery). Ernui held it (in Saxon times) and still holds it under Roger (Fitz Corbet). Here are 4½ hides geldable, and 1½ hides not geldable. In demesne are 4 oxteams, and (there are) 7 Serfs, 10 Villeins, 5 Bordars, and 1 Radman with 5 teams; and there might be 3 more teams hereon. A mill here renders an annual Corn Rent, and there is a wood which will fatten 40 swine. In King Edward's time the Manor was worth £8 per annum. Now it is worth £6." Ernui had held Oakes, part of Wrentnall and possibly part of Brompton in Condover Hundred, in addition to Westbury, Pontesbury, Fairley, and part of Onslow. He eventually lost all his estates, but in 1087 he retained the last three, holding them under Roger and Robert fitz Corbet of Caus. Pontesbury was later held under the Corbets by the Fitz Herberts, the ancestors of the Earls of Pembroke. In 1255, it was held by Reginald fitz Peter, grandson of the first Fitz Herbert lord of the Manor, as a tenure of 2½ hides, including Malhurst. Reginald died in 1286, possessed at Pontesbury of a Capital Messuage, a garden, the Moorland, a mill, &c.

valued at £18 14s. 2d. annually. His son John sold the Manor and advowson to Rees ap Howell, Clerk, who in 1309 exchanged the manor for lands at Talgarth with King Edward II., who a few weeks later granted it to John de Charlton in reward for his good services, rendered probably at the time of the King's accession, for John had received a grant of Free-Warren at Pontesbury as early as September, 1307. The Charltons, Barons of Powis, held the manor till the death, in 1551, of the last Lord Powis of that family, one of whose grand-daughters married William Leighton. The manor, after being for some time in the hands of the Vernons of Stokesay, was sold by William Leighton to Sir Roger Owen, of Condover, eldest son of Judge Thomas Owen, the builder of Condover Hall. It remained part of the Owen property till it was sold in recent years by the late Reginald Cholmondeley.

Pontesbury had 31 inhabitants assessed on the Subsidy Roll of 1327, only three of whom seem to have been fairly well off.

Malhurst, part of the Manor of Pontesbury, was held under the Fitz Herberts by a branch of the Corbets. In 1255, "Mathelhurste" was held as half-a-hide by Richard Corbet under Reginald fitz Peter, and in 1327, Isabella de Mathehurst was the most wealthy inhabitant of the Manor of Pontesbury. It was later the home of the Burleys, who were possibly of the same family as John Burley, one of the Council of the Barony of Caus in 1408. The name occurs very early in the registers.

Halston, or Auston, as it was written in the 16th century, was the home of a later branch of the Corbets, when Thomas, son of William Corbet of Lee, is called of Auston.

Other branches of the Corbets of Leigh were Corbets of Newton, and the Corbets of Hampton, from whom were descended the Corbets of Pontesbury. Edward Corbett, Student of Merton College, Oxford, who was allowed in 1646 to alter his pew in Pontesbury Church, was probably a son of Roger Corbet, of Pontesbury.

In 1647, John Corbet, of Aulston, Esq., was among those Puritan gentlemen appointed to be on the "First Classis" of the six Shropshire Presbyteries.

Fairley is described in Domesday as: "The same Roger (fitz Corbet) holds Fernelege (of the Earl) and Ernuin holds it of him. He (Ernuin) held it in the time of King Edward, and was free together with his land. Here is one hide geldable. In demesne there is one oxteam, and three Serfs and three Bordars; and there might be two teams more here. The former value was 4s. (per annum). Now it is worth 3s." The manor was early absorbed by its larger neighbour of Pontesbury, and its independence forgotten.

Onslow was partly in the parish of St. Chad, Shrewsbury, and Hundred of Baschurch, and partly in the parish of Pontesbury, and Hundred of Ford. The Domesday notice of the Pontesbury portion is: "Robert (fitz Corbet) holds Andreslawe of the Earl, and Ernui of him. The same Ernui held it (in Saxon times) and was a free man. Here is one hide, geldable. In demesne is one oxteam, and (there are) three Villeins with one team. The former value of the manor was 10s. (per annum), now it is worth 12s." Robert Corbet's heirs at Onslow were the Boterell family, under whom the manor was held by the Arundels. The tenants here who took their name from the place held under the Canons of St. Chad's. The Onslows, in 1617, sold their estate to Sir Thomas Harries, of Boreatton, and after passing through several hands it was bought in 1780 by the Wingfields, who had long lived at Preston Brockhurst. The family of Waring was connected with Onslow in the 13th century, and held land in the neighbourhood till modern days.

The Manor of Ford, which has the custom of "Borough English," i.e., inheritance by the youngest and not the eldest son, was retained by the King in his own hands for a considerable time after the forfeiture of Robert de Belesme, the last Norman Earl of Shrewsbury. In 1230 it was granted by Henry III. to Henry de Audley, of Redcastle. It remained with the Audleys till the 15th century, when it passed by inheritance to the Troutbecks, and then to the Talbots, of Grafton. It was in 1087, a manor of 15 hides, extending into the parish of Alberbury as well as that of Pontesbury.

The mediæval incumbents of Ford made several attempts to claim jurisdiction over the Pontesbury townships of the manor, and though in 1345 the claim was formally allowed, it never became a reality, and to this day the parish of Ford is limited to a portion only of the township of Ford itself.

Arscott has no early history. In 1327, five names appear on the Subsidy Roll of those who paid the tax of a twentieth of their moveable goods. In the Ford Manor Roll of 1610, six houses are mentioned, two freehold belonging to Richard Harries. The chief copyholders were the heirs of William Applebury.

Asterley was originally the property of the Church of Pontesbury, and possibly represents the 1½ hides of tax free land mentioned in Domesday. In 1255, Robert Wyscart held a hide here under the Church of St. George, and ten tenants held another hide elsewhere in Pontesbury under the same Church. In 1292, it is spoken of as Asterley-juxta-Cawes. In 1327, the names of eight tenants are given on the Subsidy Roll.

Boycott in 1200 was held by Emma, the heiress wife of Philip de Stapleton, lord of Stapleton. A family early took its name from here but they were not the only landholders. It was later the property of the Higgons family, and then of the Niccolls, of whom Thomas Niccolls was Sheriff of Shropshire in 1641. He took the Puritan side, probably through the influence of his mother Anne, sister of Rowland Heylyn, Alderman of London, the promoter of the translation of the Bible into Welsh. The wife of the Sheriff was Mary Kynaston, of Marton, a sister of Judith, wife of Sir Orlando Bridgeman, Lord Keeper ot fhe Great Seal. He was one of those Puritan gentlemen mentioned as of the "First classis" in 1647.

The Kynastons, of Pontesbury, were of the same stock as those of Marton and Crickheath, though not very nearly related. They were settled in Pontesbury at the end of the 15th century. Thomas Young, Archbishop of York in 1561, was married to Jane, sister of John Kynaston of the Woodhouse, co. Salop, whom the Heralds of 1623 put under the Kynastons of Pontesbury.

The family of Boycott, of Boycott, retain their connection with Pontesbury to the present day. In 1659, William Adams, of Longdon, and Judith, daughter of William Boycott, of Buildwas, were married. Another daughter married into the Warter family, of Swancote, near Worfield. William Boycott, Esq., of Uppington, was buried in 1707.

In March, 1659—60, John Congreve, of Stretton, in the parish of Penkridge, co. Staffs., married Mary Niccolls, and the following year she was living at Boycott with her father, and received from Timothy Hammond, one of the Rectors, a licence to eat flesh in Lent, she being then "sick and deprived of health." Her daughter Mary, was baptised in August, 1661.

Cruck Meole (or Meole as it is called in the Subsidy Roll of 1327) possessed one of the four mills of the Manor of Ford, and Roger the Miller was one of the seven inhabitants assessed there. In 1610 eleven houses are mentioned here, and two mills, Cruck Meole and Hanwood, which latter is in Ford parish.

Cruckton was the home as early as the 15th century of the Harries family, and the family of Phillipps were also there in the 16th and 17th centuries. It has eight names on the Roll of 1327, one of whom, Nicholas fitz Robert, was assessed at 5s. In 1610 Richard Hosier and Edward Onslow were the chief copyholders, and Richard Harries had a large freehold. On the death in 1879 of Col. Thomas Harries, the estate passed to the Jenkins family.

Edge had eight fairly well to do inhabitants assessed in 1327. The family of Edge, alias Hawkins, occurs in this neighbourhood in the 16th century. It ended with two heiresses, one of whom married Francis Ward, of Hinton, and the other Hugh Corbet, both before 1584. In 1610, George Browne held the chief part of Edge.

Hinton was the home of the Ward family, one of whom, Thomas, married Jane, daughter of Roger Higgons, and his grandson Francis married a daughter and heiress of Roger Edge, alias Hawkins. The property of the Ward family here passed to the Offleys, and so to the Wakemans. Hinton Hall, built in 1746, is now the property of H. de G. Tatham Warter.

The Lea was important in mediæval days as possessing a mill, but in 1610, though there were four copyholders and one freeholder, Arthur Ward, there, the mill was decayed and not paid for. The Roman villa here has already been alluded to.

Newnham was held by the family of Higgons and passed later to that of Niccolls. In 1327, six inhabitants are mentioned. In 1610, Reynold and Richard Higgons and William Dennys were the chief copyholders. It is now the property of the Niccolls family, who have been connected with the parish of Pontesbury since the 16th century, but whose modern representatives have made their home in New Zealand.

Nox is a hamlet that does not occur in records till comparatively modern days, and the same may be said of Hinwood. In 1780, Francis Waring, Esq., held land at Nox.

Nox is on the border of Yockleton parish, and Hinwood of Westbury.

Plealey had ten inhabitants assessed to the Subsidy of 1327, one of whom William de Caldicote, paid 4s. 5¼d., and another, Richard fitz Reginald, 3s. 4d., both considerable sums when 1d. was a fair day's wage, and 1½d. could hire a horse and cart for a day.

Abram Callcott was the chief copyholder in 1610, when 20 houses are mentioned here, (only one called a cottage), with a cockshutt and hemp butts. At the close of the 18th century Plealey was the home of Dr. Waring, Professor of Mathematics at Cambridge, He died there in 1798, but was buried at Fitz, where he had been born in 1734.

Polmere, though now only a single house, had five inhabitants assessed to the 1327 Subsidy, and the name of de Polemere occurs several times in the Manor Rolls. Henry Heyward was the chief copyholder here in 1610.

Pontesford had four tenants in 1327, one of whom, Alice the widow, was assessed at 4s. (The highest assessment in the whole hundred of Ford was 7s. 4d., paid by Beatrice Corbet, lady of Caus). In 1610, William Pitt was the chief copyholder, and he had then recently bought land from Ranulph Lee and Simon Cowper. He was a younger son of the Pitts, of Kyre, and had married Joyce, daughter of Leonard Lister, and widow of Richard Tipton. The mills at Pontesford were held in 1610 by Francis Adams, gentleman, who was of Longden. It is now the property of Heighway Jones, whose house of Earlsdale is mentioned in the registers as Pool Place. In May, 1811, the Pontesford brook rose suddenly to a great height, sweeping away everything in its course, and drowning eight people, whose funerals are recorded on the 31st of May and two following days that year.

Sascot in 1327 had four well-to-do tenants, assessed respectively at 4s., 3s., 5s., and 4s.

In 1610, Richard Harries, George Hosier and Robert Phillips, all described as "gentleman," were the land holders there, and Edward Onslow held "Longemere Copy."

Sibberscote had five tenants in 1327, four distinctly well-to-do. In 1610 only three houses are mentioned here. In the 18th century the Warter family had property here.

Little Hanwood is within the Liberties of Shrewsbury. It is mentioned in the 16th century as the property of the Hosier family, together with land at Great Hanwood, the Woodhouse (Woodhall), Paynston (Panson), and Longden. These lands passed into the hands of the Prynce family, and thus to the Berringtons, who as early as 1398 occur in connection with Woodhouse as lords of that manor. Thomas Berrington, of Moat Hall, bought the house of Panson in 1621.

In early times Woodhouse was held by the family of de Arundel, who were connected with the family of the same name at Habberley.

Woodhall was the home of a family named Sale (de Aula), who were of importance in the 13th century.

Longden was at Domesday held under Earl Roger by Roger fitz Corbet. It had been worth £4 per annum under its Saxon owner Leuric. During the troubled time of the Norman Conquest, its value fell to 30s., but by 1087, it had become worth £2. It possessed a wood capable of fattening 60 swine. The manor passed by the marriage of Alice Corbet, to the Botterells, of Cornwall. In the later 13th century, Bishop Burnell obtained Longden in exchange for lands in Somersetshire, and it remained with his heirs. The manor was held by tenants, who took their name from the place. In 1327, twelve inhabitants were assessed to the Subsidy Roll, the chief of whom was Edmund de Longden.

In the 16th century the Adams family were the chief owners of Longden.

Oakes is in the hundred of Condover. It was a manor of two hides, held in the time of Edward the Confessor by a Franklin Ernuit (probably the Saxon lord of Pontesbury, Westbury and Fairley), and after the Conquest by Robert fitz Corbet, under Earl Roger de Montgomery. In 1087, there was half an oxteam on the demesne land, though four teams might have been employed in addition to the team belonging to the one Bordar, one Villein, one Radman, and two serfs, that made up the population. The manor had been worth 40s. annually to its Saxon lord, but its value had fallen to 10s., and in 1087 to 8s. The great diminution in value seems to show that Oakes had suffered in the troubles of the Conquest, or possibly in the rising of Edric Sylvaticus against the Norman rule.

Oakes was held in the 12th century by Robert de Girros, who had tenants here named De Bikedon, and later some of the Burnell family had an interest in the manor. Near to Oakes, but in the parish of Pulverbatch, is Walleybourne, the home of the Jennins family, who intermarried with all the chief families of the neighbourhood.

The family of Warter who owned property in this neighbourhood occurs frequently in the Pontesbury Registers.

Longden Manor, built in 1866, by H. de G. Warter, is now the property of William Swire.

Among noticeable entries are: the burial, July 9, 1551, of Sir Edward Grey, Lord Powis; and a note that on May 8, 1562, Lord Henry, Baron Stafford, was buried at Worthen.

Margery Higgins, formerly a nun (olim Monialis) was buried April 22, 1568. Ralph Wingfield, citizen of London, had a daughter Joyce baptised August 7, 1575, and Roger Calcot, another London citizen, had a son Samuel baptised in 1625.

During the Commonwealth, Timothy Hammond, rector of the first portion was chosen as "Register," and he duly entered the births and not the baptisms of children according to the order of the Parliament. In 1661, he gave a license to "eat flesh" in Lent to Mrs. Congreve, daughter of Thomas Niccolls, of Boycott.

Corbett Owen, buried at Condover in 1670, was son of William Owen (3rd son of Sir William Owen, of Condover), the rector of the second portion of Pontesbury, ejected in 1646, himself buried at Condover in 1672. Corbett Owen is described in the Condover Register as the "Incomparably learned Mr. Corbett Owen, ye son and heir of the Reverend Mr. William Owen, of Pontesbury."

A possible centenarian occurs in 1707, in Margaret Underwood, of the Oakes, "reputed to be 106 years old," and another in 1751; Thomas Jones, aged 102.

There are many families whose members are described in the register as "generosi." The Burleys of Malhurst, Corbets of Auston, and of Pontesbury, Wards of Hinton, Adams of Longden, Kemsey, Kynaston, Higgons, Phillips of Cruck Meole, Clough of Minsterley, Jennens of Walleybourne, Onslow of Onslow, Harries of Cruckton, Lake of Asterley, Berrington of Moat Hall, Niccolls of Boycott and Newnham, Tipton of Pontesford, Peers, Pitt, Browne of Edge, Wolley (one of whom was buried at Hanwood in 1676), Barret, Crosse of Edge and Longden, and several others.

The register is the work of many writers, some of whom were very sparing of titles, and the trade or calling is hardly ever given.

Among unusual names are Christabel, Cavendish, Peleg, Jehosaphat, Hildebrand, Fabian.

The church of St. George consists of a modern nave, aisles and tower, replacing those taken down in 1825, and a spacious chancel of early Decorated work, dating from the end of the 13th or beginning of the 14th century. There are mural tablets to the Boycott, Davies and other families.

The Church has of late years been enriched with many gifts, principally the reredos and screen, and several stained glass windows.

There is a district Church at Cruckton, dedicated to St. Thomas, built in 1840, and the donative of Longden has a Church dedicated according to tradition to St. Ruthin. The present building does not date back farther than the 16th century.

Lea Cross has a picturesque brick Church of St. Anne, built in 1888, by the Rev. S. J. Abbot Hawkes in memory of his mother, and Asterley has a Mission Church, built in 1870.

The following is a list of the rectors during the period covered by the Register. Lists of the earlier rectors from the 13th century will be found in Eyton's Antiquities, VII., 139—142, and in the Shropshire Archæological Society's Transactions, 2nd Series, V., 238—249.

At the Religious Census of Shropshire made in 1676, there were in Pontesbury 707 Conformists, 8 Papists, and 6 Nonconformists. The Berringtons of Moat Hall and the Cloughs of Minsterley were both Roman Catholic families. The inventory of Church goods taken 6th May, 7 Edward VI., shows that there was "one chalice of silver with the paten thereunto, three great bells, and a sanctus bell." Another return gives "iij chalices of sylver, iij belles and a sanctus bell of one accorde."

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 contains the following account of the Pontesbury Registers :—"Pontesbury R., (with Longden C.) No. I. Register, 1538—1542, 1547—1733. No. II., Bap., Bur., 1734—1772; Marr., 1734—1753. No. III., Bap., Bur., 1773—1812. No. IV., V., Marr., 1754—1812." It may here be noted that there are only six Shropshire parishes whose Register commences in the reign of Henry VIII., and Pontesbury is one of these parishes.

The Registers to 1812 are contained in six books. The earliest consists of 322 pages of parchment bound in vellum.

The Registers were copied by the Rev. W. F. L. Harrison. They have been carefully collated with the originals, and the proofs seen through the press by Miss Auden. They are now printed by permission of the Rectors, the Rev. R. T. Seddon, the Rev. S. J. Abbot-Hawkes, and the Rev. E. M. Furley, at the expense of Mrs. Seymour, who has most generously presented them to the Society.

Westbury.

Westbury Registers.

The village of Westbury is situated nine miles from Shrewsbury, on the Montgomery road. It is in the diocese of Hereford, archdeaconry of Ludlow, rural deanery of Pontesbury, and hundred of Ford. The parish now contains the townships of Westbury, Lake, Cause, Wallop, Winsley, Westley, Hurst, Hem, Hawcocks, Vennington, Whitton, Marsh, and Upper and Lower Wigmore. These townships, with Minsterley, used to form the Rectory of 'Westbury in Dextra Parte,' whilst the townships of Yockleton, Stoney Stretton, and Newton, formed the Rectory of 'Westbury in Sinistra Parte.' The church at Minsterley was built in the early part of the 18th century, but baptisms and burials which took place there were registered at Westbury until 1847. The Rectory of Westbury in Sinistra Parte was separated from Westbury for ecclesiastical purposes in 1862 under the name of Yockleton, and a separate register has been kept at Yockleton since the year 1861, when the church was built there. The area of Westbury, including Yockleton, is 8,800 acres, that of Minsterley is 2,660 acres. The population of Westbury, Yockleton, and Minsterley amounted, in 1901, to 1,942.

At the time of the Domesday Survey, Westbury formed a part of the lands held of Earl Roger, by Roger Corbet, who gave the township of Winsley to Shrewsbury Abbey. Roger Corbet built a castle at Alretone, naming it Caus in honour of his birthplace, the Pays de Caux, in Normandy. It was held by his descendants in the male line till in the reign of Edward III. it passed by marriage to the Earls of Stafford. In the reign of Queen Elizabeth, it was sold to Robert Howard, whose descendant, Sir Henry Frederick Thynne, was the owner of Caus during the Civil War. The burial of a soldier of the garrison is recorded in Westbury register. The castle was captured by the Parliament's forces at the end of June, 1645. It is now the property of the Severne family.

The Saxon collegiate foundation at Minsterley was transferred to Westbury before the year 1086, and in Domesday Book it is stated that there were two priests at Westbury.

Westbury Church, dedicated to S. Mary, is undoubtedly of early date, but it has been much changed by more than one restoration. The Rev. D. H. S. Cranage considers that the chancel and possibly the nave may perhaps date from the 13th century. The arcade is early English. The tower dates from 1753, and has a flight of many steps on the outside of its Northern wall. The church contains some thoroughly good modern work. There are memorials of John Topp, 1736, and of the Burley family.

The register down to 1812, consists of the following volumes:—

Vol. I. 1637 to 1663. 68 pages.

Vol. II. 1663 to 1671. No cover; 20 pages.

Vol. III. 1672 to 1711. On the cover are the names John Harries and Francis Evans, churchwardens 1674. 74 pages.

Vol. IV. 1712 to 1730. 72 pages.

Vol. V. (marked 'VI.' on cover). 1731 to 1753. 100 pages.

The above volumes are of parchment. They are all well kept, and, with the exception of volume II. and some torn edges in volume III., they are in good preservation. They contain entries of baptisms, marriages and burials.

Vol. VI. (marked 'V.' on cover. 1718 to 1750. About 70 pages of paper, bound in parchment. Affidavits. (See note on page 225).

Vol. VII. 1754 to 1812. Baptisms and Burials. Rather dilapidated.

Vols. VIII. and IX. 1754 to 1812. Marriages on ordinary printed forms. Vol. IX. contains banns at one end of the book and marriages at the other.

The bindings of the first six volumes are loose and dilapidated. The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 has a list of volumes which corresponds with that given above.

The entries are made in Latin till the end of the year 1737.

The principal families mentioned in the register are those of Corbet, Topp of Whitton, Gough of Marsh, Thynne, Clough, Fox of Hurst, and Severne of Wallop.

Other names to which in the Register some such designation as 'gentleman' or 'esquire' is added are:—

Hosier, Waringe, Barkley, Treavis (Treves), Preene, Owens, Wood, Griffiths, Higgons, Clayton, Hollier, Leighton, Typton, Thomas, Mathews, Phillips, Stephens, Dupper, Purslow, Peers, Harries, Price, Brompton, Barrett, Ellesmere, Tasker, Newcombe, Ashby, Fisher, Burley, Spencer, Hale.

Thomas Swatman, buried in 1703, is described as 'generoso equalis per statutum parliamenti.'

Some curious christian names occur such as Tangulus, Hissetta, Ermin, Maladine, Florus, Philadelphia, Mereducius, Haneretta, Pelagius, Togarmur, and Amadine.

The following list of Rectors is compiled chiefly from Eyton's Antiquities of Shropshire, and from the Libri Institutionum preserved in the Public Record Office:—

BENEFACTIONS TO THIS PARISH.

A Plate of Brass for a Sun-dial by Thomas Rider of Broom-hill put up at the expence of the Parish in the year 1792.

A Bason of White Marble for a Font inscribed by the Reverend Peter Ravenscroft, B.D., Curate of this Parish put up at his expence . . . . . upon a Pedestal of Iron in the year 1793.

The Old Iron Gates from Condover Hall by Nicholas Owen Smythe Owen, Esquire, Lord of the Manor and Patron of the Two Portions of this Rectory.

These Gates were exchanged for Wickets and Railing of Cast Iron to the sides of the Avenue to the Church and put up at the Expence of the Parish in the year 1794.

A Pair of Gates of Cast Iron by the Reverend John Smythe, Rector of the First Portion and the Reverend Osborne Wight, M.A., Rector of the Second Portion—put up with Stone Pillars at the Expence of the Parish in the year 1794.

The Trees in the Church Yard and in the Avenue leading to it were planted at the Expence of the Revd. John Smythe above named in the year 1789.

The Wall between the Church Yard and the Garden belonging to the Rectory House was built at the Expence of the above-named John Smythe in the year 1790 and by him many other improvements were made.

[In another hand is added:] Query—if this was an improvement? Rather was the pulling the said wall down an improvement by the Revd. Thomas Parr in the year 1840.
